David Giles, Martin Meader : Paradise Road: The Screenplay of the Film before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Paradise Road: The Screenplay of the Film:

Paradise Road is a powerful tale of feminine courage, friendship, and strength. Centering on a little known chapter of World War II, the capturing of tens of thousands of Europeans, Australians, and Americans by the Japanese as they swept through the far East - the film focuses on a disparate group of women, all from different countries and social strata, who are forced to find common ground in order to survive as prisoners of war.
