Quinlan's Illustrated Directory of Film Character Actors is an excellent resource book for those of us who love old films the character actors who drive them. I am stunned that each one has a list of most of his/her films dates ! And pleased to read country of birth. Glad each bio is accompanied by a picture, although several of the pix are hardly recognizable to one who has seen them so often on the screen. If possible to update some of these pix, or choose ones more representative of the actors, it would be appreciated. Otherwise, it's hard to criticize such a wonderful history book. An Almost Perfect Book By Greeneyes A very impressive book, and probably the very best of its type. My only complaint is that a few character actors who should be included are strangely missing, such as Clarence Wilson, James Flavin, and Charles Trowbridge.

This is a guide to over 1100 character actors and actresses. The people covered include John le Mesurier, Irene Handl, Dora Bryan and Sam Kydd from the British studios; and Elisha Cook, Iris Adrian, Hattie McDaniel and Irving Bacon from Hollywood. There is a portrait to accompany every entry. After a short account of each actor's career and characteristics, all their known film credits are given, including many fleeting appearances never previously recorded, plus shorts and TV movies. David Quinlan is also the author of "The Illustrated Directory of Film Stars", "The Illustrated Directory of Film Directors" and "British Sound Films 1928-1959".
