Richard Matheson, Stanley Wiater : Richard Matheson's The Twilight Zone Scripts (Volume 2) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Richard Matheson's The Twilight Zone Scripts (Volume 2):

Fans of the original series know of Richard Matheson's stellar thirteen episodes, which include some of the finest in the series: "The Invaders", "Death Ship", "Nightmare at 20,000 Feet". And at long last, here they are in readable form. Unfortunately, the two volumes offer little more than the scripts themselves. Those familiar with the "TZ Companion" by Zicree and the newly-released "TZ Scripts of Earl Hamner" (with commentary by Tony Albarella) or "Forgotten Gems from The Twilight Zone" (with commentary by Andrew Ramage) know of the in-depth commentary offered for nearly all the episodes. Stanley Wiater does little more than repeat what has been said elsewhere about Matheson's episodes. No real analyses or significant insight precedes the scripts themselves, thus making the book rather uninteresting on the whole.

Apart from Rod Serling, screenwriter Richard Matheson wrote more teleplays for the cult classic The Twilight Zone than any other writer. Many of these episodes became the series' most acclaimed and most frequently aired. Published here for the first time are eight original scripts. Each is preceded by an introduction and commentary that lends insight into Matheson's creative process, how he felt about the adaptation of his scripts, and his relationship with Rod Serling. Information about the fate of two 'lost' scripts and suggestions for further reading and viewing are also included. This volume includes the final six complete Twilight Zone scripts Matheson wrote for the show.

From Publishers Weekly
Richard Matheson's The Twilight Zones Scripts: Volume 2, edited by horror expert Stanley Wiater, collects six of Matheson's teleplays from Rod Serling's classic TV series. This has been a banner year for the veteran author, whose recent work includes a novel, Hunted Past Reason, and a children's book, Abu and the 7 Marvels.
