I couldn't put it down once I got started. Knowing a little about the Brazilian wax and knowing a little about Chris, I thoroughly enjoyed all of the hairy tales.Everything, from the thank you at the beginning to her husband Gene, to the Happy Endings (last chapter), to the Pussy Playlist, was humorous and at times made me cringe. I wish Chris was still my esthetician, I really miss our conversations, but I am so thrilled that she got her book published. And, of course, I am so happy that I enjoyed reading it so much. 2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Loved it! By Heather S. Johnson Once I started Ripped, it was hard to take a break! Chris has a gift for writing like she speaks and this book is no exception. I didn't want the book to end, and am already looking forward to the next one! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Everything you wanted to know By Lori Just got done reading this book, Chris is an awesome writer. Having had Brazilian waxes I laughed my head off, I could really relate to some of her stories, not the gross ones or the ones about men, but the others. If you were ever curious about getting a Brazilian wax this book will tell you everything you've ever wanted to know and more.

Have you ever wanted to know what happens behind closed doors during a Brazilian bikini wax? Curious what your waxer is really thinking about as she rips the hair from your nether regions? In the tradition of Kitchen Confidential and Heads in Beds, Ripped chronicles the highs, lows and hilarity that are part and parcel of a job that involves nudity and pain. After nearly a decade running a day spa specializing in this most intimate of services, Brazilian bikini waxer Christine Duquette has seen it all. She draws you in from the very first page with a parade of unforgettable clients and outrageous but true tales of the good, the bad and the stinky all told by a keenly observant insider. You'll never look at your waxer the same. From her first time manscaping a manzilian, to answering burning questions like, Should I bleach my bum? and Why do we have pubic hair anyway? Ripped is a raucous read and more than a collection of trade secrets, it is a colorful tale filled with wild characters from hair-pants lady to a purring adult film star. Christine is a solid storyteller who has captured the essence of the high maintenance beauty industry with an authentic blend of wit and charm. After more than a decade running a day spa, Christine Duquette now writes professionally and can be found at stellarwebwriting.com.
