Bravo SandiBy Ogg MathenoFabulous new book and one that opened my eyes to see the wealth of comedic material in my own life, i.e. in which to draw upon to write. This should be considered the "Bible" for stand-up work. I also took Sandi's workshop in So. Calif. and developed my first set, performed it in front of an audience at one of the casinos, plus healed some personal issues in the process!

The Comedy Store in L.A. is a family affair, founded by Sammy and Mitzi Shore, the parents of comedians Pauly Shore and Sandi Shore. In Secrets to Standup Success, Sandi offers valuable insider instruction on how to shape a comic persona and develop a personal delivery style, plus secrets on timing, pacing, and creating characters.

"Buy the book because she owes me money!" -- Arsenio Hall
"She's the kind of spirit and talent that can help make your act funnier between sets on the same night." -- Rain Pryor
From the Author: "I train my students to become the character they already are and not to tell jokes. Standup comedy is about characterizing your everyday life into the language of comedy -- a skill that has to be practiced and studied. Once you master this skill, the doors will begin to fly open for you."
About the Author: Sandi C. Shore spent eight years as director and general manager of the Comedy Stores in Honolulu, La Jolla and West Los Angeles before channeling her energies into her exclusive workshops for standup comics and public speakers. She developed her theories of comedy and her unique teaching style through years of observing, coaching and working with comedians like Robin Williams, Jim Carrey, David Letterman and Whoopi Goldberg. She lives in La Jolla, California.
