From Southern Music Co. : Tattoo: for Symphonic Band before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Tattoo: for Symphonic Band:

(Southern Music). Tattoo is the stirring Finale of Legacy , commissioned for the bicentennial celebration of West Point. The opening theme is based on the bugle call which signals a return to quarters at day's end. The socre includes antiphonal effects with optional offstage bugles and field drum, creating an authentic "military" sound. The old West Point song "Benny Havens" leads into the reemerging Tattoo theme, now answered by other bugle calls, bringing the work to a rousing conclusion. Dur: 6:00
